The University of the Philippines Kabataang Pilosopo Tasyo (UP KaPiTas) is a duly-recognized socio-academic organization based in the College of Social Sciences and Philosophy. For 28 years, KaPiTas has devoted itself to promoting and developing Philosophy as a discipline and a field of study that is relevant in the Philippine society all the while being committed to its four pillars – critical and analytic thinking, academic excellence, moral integrity, and economic viability.

UP PUGAD Sayk (University of the Philippines Psychological Understanding for Growth and Distinction Society) is more than just a beleaguered acronym. PUGAD is a relatively young organization that seeks the betterment of its members - through their own diversity. This group truly believes that each person has something different and unique to offer everyone. But more than just an org (and an acronym), the members of PUGAD see our beloved "nest" (for indeed, the Filipino word pugad means that) as a home - and our fellow members as family.

The University of the Philippines Philosophical Society or UP PhiloSoc is a non-partisan College of Social Sciences and Philosophy (CSSP)-based university-wide socio-academic organization. It is the oldest and the premier philosophical organization in the country and is arguably the oldest in the South East Asian region. True to its motto, "Unity amidst diversity," in its 56 years of indomitable existence, it has produced alumni who excel not only in philosophy but also in other disciplines. These other disciplines include psychology, business, medicine and even public office. Today, it continues to spread philosophy outside the four walls of the classroom through different socio-civic and academic activities such as lectures, symposia, philosophical discussions, annual blood drives and during our most recent anniversary week, a free eye check-up. Now on its 56th year, UP PhiloSoc will be ushering new breed of members that has risen from the obscurities of the past into the dynamism of its current line of members and leaders. UP PhiloSoc has made and forever will make itself not only a haven for liberal philosophical learning but as a breeding ground for effective, critical and responsible leaders of society in whatever field they may be part of.

The Junior Philippine Geographical Society - UP Diliman is an academic and sociocultural organization which aims to promote the discipline of geography into the Filipino society as solutions to problems we face as a country. We also aim to reach out towards the Filipino youth and introduce to them the distinct discipline of geography. We achieve these through our flagship events like Contour, National Geography Challenge and Geography Camp which aims to the fulfillment of our goal as an organization.
